Clearing Out All of Our Ladies' and Misses' Suits At and Below Cost.

We've had a remarkably busy season in suits, but, like many merchants, we've had our calculations upset by the rainy spell of last month—hence more suits on hand than this time of the season warrants. We must reduce our stock—so we've decided to make deep price cuts on every Ladies' and Misses' Suit in our stock—in many instances garments will be offered below actual cost; therefore we must make a charge for any alterations—the charges will be very small, as the cost of only actual labor will be charged. Take the elevator to second floor bright and early tomorrow morning. A first choice is worth having.

Water Facilities.

The District Commissioners recently received a communication from the East Washington Heights Citizens' Association inquiring whether or not water facilities for Good Hope and vicinity were provided for in the District appropriation bill for 1901-1902. The matter was referred to Superintendent W. A. McFarland of the water department, who has reported to the effect that there is no specific appropriation in the bill for the extension of water service to Good Hope. He says further that to cover the territory in question water would have to be pumped to a total height of about 320 feet above tide. The Anacostia pumping station at present delivers water at an elevation of about 165 feet above tide.

Alexander Washington, colored, pleaded guilty to making an assault on Hattie Washington, his wife. Hattie took the stand and said she did not want him to go to jail. Judge O'Donnell said he thought fifteen days in the prison would do him good, and so ordered.

CAPT. DAVIS' FUNERAL

Will Be Buried With Military Honors at Arlington.

FELL IN THE FIGHTING AT TIEN TSI

Remains Are Expected to Arrive Tomorrow.

HIS CAREER IN THE NAVY

Information has been received by Col. Truett, depot quartermaster of the army, that the remains of several officers and men who were killed in the Chinese campaign of last summer, which were recently disinterred and transported to the United States, have at the desire of relatives and friends been forwarded to Washington for burial in the national cemetery at Arlington. Among these is the body of Capt. Austin B. Davis, U. S. M. C., who was killed during the sanguinary battle of Tien Tsin, in which Col. Liscum of the 7th United States Infantry also lost his life, and a number of other officers of the army and Marine Corps were severely wounded.

Naval Cadet on the Kearsarge.

Capt. Davis was a son of the Rev. L. B. Davis, a clergyman of Savannah, Ga., where he was born in 1871. Appointed to the Naval Academy May 21, 1888, from his home state, he was graduated in 1892 and ordered to sea for his two years' course, being assigned to the Kearsarge, famous for her splendid victory over the Confederate cruiser Alabama off Cherbourg, France, in 1864. He was still serving as a naval cadet on board the Kearsarge when she was cast away on Roncador Bank in the Caribbean sea, in the month of April, 1894. He was still serving as a naval cadet on board the shipwrecked crew of the historic old sloop-of-war.

In the Spanish War.

On July 1 of the same year, having completed the prescribed course of six years as a naval cadet, young Davis was commissioned a second lieutenant in the marine corps, and from October until the following June he attended the school of application at the headquarters of the marine corps in this city. After graduation from this school he was stationed at the marine barracks, Norfolk, until the summer of 1898, when he was ordered to Mare Island, Cal., to join the battle ship Oregon, then just going into commission. He served on board that vessel during all her cruising on the Pacific coast and her magnificent dash around the South American continent upon the outbreak of the war with Spain, and took part in the victory over Cervera's squadron at Santiago de Cuba, July 3, 1898. In that great sea fight he had charge of a portion of the Oregon's secondary battery, and was highly commended for his coolness and efficiency during the engagement.

Service in the Orient.

Lieutenant Davis was detached from the Oregon soon after this and ordered to Portsmouth, N. H., where he served at Camp Heywood during the detention of the Spanish prisoners at that station. In February, 1899, he was promoted to first lieutenant and in March to captain, and in April, when the 1st battalion of marines was ordered to the Philippines, he was assigned to the command of one of its companies. He served at Cavite and the outlying posts for about a year. In the early summer of 1900, when the position of the foreigners in Peking began to be one of extreme danger, he was ordered to China with the 1st regiment of marines. The regiment took the field immediately upon disembarking at Taku and joined the allied forces under command of the British general, Dordani. In the march and attack on Tien Tsin. It was to be for Capt. Davis a brief but glorious campaign, on the very day that the assault on the city began, and while he was standing at the side of Col. Meade directing the fire of his company deployed in a trench a few yards to the front, he was instantly killed by a shot through the heart. Thus he met a soldier's death, falling in battle in the very face of the enemy.

Capt. Davis' untimely end has been widely lamented, not only by his brother officers, with whom he was always a favorite on account of his generosity, unflinching good nature and companionable disposition, but also by his large circle of friends in civil life, among whom many Washingtonians are numbered. He was a man, who, while making many friends, remained true to them all, loyalty being one of the chief characteristics of his nature.

Funeral Arrangements.

The remains of Captain Davis left San Francisco last Tuesday night and are expected to reach Washington tomorrow. Meanwhile his parents have communicated with friends in this city, who have made such arrangements for the funeral as are possible pending the arrival of the family, which will probably be tomorrow. There will be no services held over the remains in any of the Washington churches, but only the usual committee services at the grave at Arlington. The interment, however, will be made with full military honors. The escort will consist of two companies of marines and the Marine Band from the marine barracks.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE.

Proceedings of the Meeting Held Last Evening.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Anti-Saloon League of the District was held to order last evening by President Ewin. The opening prayer was offered by Chaplain Brooks, and after a verse of "America," the minutes of the last meeting were read by Mr. Owen P. Kellar, secretary pro tem., and approved by the league.

Mr. Canfield, on behalf of the committee on co-operation, reported the names of Messrs. L. H. Hildekau, Chas. B. Bateman, Roy M. Hildekau and Miss Lillian Kraus as delegates to the league from the Christian Endeavor Society of St. Paul's English Lutheran Church, Mrs. Merck and Messrs. William Lewis and Armstrong Purcell as delegates from Le Droit Loyal Legion, and Mr. G. T. Matthews as the representative from the Y. P. S. C. of Marvin M. E. Church South. These new members were received, introduced to the league and cordially welcomed. A letter was read from Mary Nimmo Ballentine of No. 922 15th street, thanking the league and its attorney for aid in defeating the issuance of a liquor license to the McPherson Club.

The committee on literature reported progress. The committee on mass meetings reported through Chairman Metcalf, in compliance with instructions, they were taking steps to celebrate the eighth anniversary of the league. Sunday, June 23, Wesley Chapel having been chosen as the place of meeting, and the annual sermon to be preached by Rev. J. F. Heise of that church. One of the aims of the past year's work is to be presented by Vice President Canfield.

Regarding protests Attorney Shoemaker stated that Miss Hazzard had been at work visiting people in the vicinity where a new saloon was proposed, and securing signatures to a protest against the opening of the saloon. Miss Hazzard made a report of the work she had done. Mr. Shoemaker reported that the granting of liquor licenses had been blocked in a number of instances recently, and that in several cases licenses would be refused. In regard to the Police Court cases, notable among which are the 3d of March violations of the Sunday law, Mr. Shoemaker stated that action had been seriously hindered. One conviction, he said, had been secured, but an order has been issued holding up the other cases, and the prospect is not bright for speedy adjustment. It was ordered that a formal protest against the league be sent to the Commissioners, urging that prompt action be taken in these Police Court cases. It was ordered that a committee of three be appointed to fill the office of secretary, recently made vacant by the resignation of Request Granted. The District Commissioners have decided to grant the request of R. F. Miller for the removal of the gas lamp in front of his premises, 1233 12th street northwest, south to a point opposite the alley running from 12th to 13th streets. As the distance between the lamp thus moved to the lamp at the corner of N street would be 270 feet, leaving quite a long unlighted stretch, on the side of 12th street between the two poles, it is stated that the lamps are desired as near the entrance to alleys as possible.
